The Faculty of Computer Science and Information Technology (FSKTM), Universiti Malaya recently hosted its much-anticipated Durian Feast 2026, bringing together academic and administrative staff in a warm celebration of friendship, appreciation and togetherness.

Made possible through the generous support of our sponsors, the event brought colleagues from different departments together over Malaysia's iconic King of Fruits. Filled with laughter and meaningful conversations, the afternoon session truly reflected the vibrant spirit of One FSKTM.

More than simply enjoying seasonal delicacies, the Durian Feast reinforced the importance of nurturing a positive workplace culture. Informal gatherings such as this provide valuable opportunities to strengthen collaboration, encourage cross-unit engagement and promote staff well-being in a relaxed environment and improve their quality of life.

The event also reflected the faculty's appreciation for the FSKTM community. Sharing durians, conversations and memorable moments can strengthen relationships and fostered a greater sense of belonging.

FSKTM extends its heartfelt appreciation to all sponsors, contributors, organizers and staff members whose dedication and support made this meaningful event a success. The faculty looks forward to organizing more community centered programmed that strengthen unity and to encourage collaboration and celebrate the One FSKTM family.

The sweetest part of the Durian Feast was not the fruit itself, but the opportunity to strengthen our bonds as one FSKTM family.
